

RTD holding public feedback sessions for proposed August 2025 service changes

Virtual public meetings available June 16 and June 17; online survey dashboard available through June 19

DENVER (June 4, 2025) — The Regional Transportation District \(RTD\) is providing customers and community stakeholders the opportunity to share feedback about the proposed August 2025 service changes that will take effect Aug. 31. Two virtual meetings, both via Zoom, will be held on Monday, June 16, and one “Ask a Service Planner” virtual meeting will be held Tuesday, June 17. The Ask a Service Planner meeting is an opportunity for customers to ask individual questions and speak directly with an RTD service planner about the proposed changes.

Customer and stakeholder feedback is important to ensure RTD provides an efficient and responsive system that serves community needs. The proposed changes are developed to improve reliability and on-time performance of bus and rail services in response to community needs, traffic patterns, ridership trends, operational resources and to address seasonal adjustments. The proposed changes account for Phases 2-4 of the Downtown Rail Reconstruction Project.

If approved by the RTD Board of Directors, the proposed changes will take effect Sunday, Aug. 31.
